WISCONSIN ELECTION HAS CONSIDERABLE IMPORTANCE

BERGER, SOCIAL DEMOCRAT, RUNNING AHEAD OF COCHENS, REPUBLICAN, FOR CONGRESS.

GENERAL VOTE IN THE STATE

Vote Varies In Different Localities—Much Interest In the Bancroft Fight, Intense In Many Localities.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Milwaukee, Nov. 8.—Reports at two o'clock this afternoon from the fifth congressional district is that Berger, social democrat candidate, is running ahead of Cochens, the republican candidate. Congressman Cary, republican candidate in the fourth district, is reported running ahead of Gaylord, the social democratic candidate.

Heavy In Milwaukee.
Milwaukee, Nov. 8.—With ideal weather conditions prevailing here a fairly heavy early vote was polled today.

With the opening of the polls at six o'clock the dinner bucket brigade who carry their ballots before the blowing of the seven o'clock whistle crowded the polls in the manufacturing district. A heavy vote was also registered early in the residence districts, showing unusual interest.

Much Splitting.
La Crosse, Wis., Nov. 8.—With cloudy weather, surface conditions are here today for an average vote. The Dunn coupon ballot, being used for the first time in La Crosse and Eau Claire counties, seems to facilitate the splitting of tickets. If the coupon ballot makes good it may be the official ballot of Wisconsin.

Vote Light.
Racine, Wis., Nov. 8.—With a progressive republican victory conceded in this district, indications are here today that the vote will be light. Weather conditions are ideal.

At Fond du Lac.
Fond du Lac, Wis., Nov. 8.—Fond du Lac is voting heavily with chances for success on the county ticket being about even. Michael E. Burke, the democratic candidate for congress in the sixth district, is running ahead of William E. Froelich, former secretary of state. The county is conceded to McGovern and Crownhart.

At Oshkosh.
Oshkosh, Nov. 8.—Oshkosh is today using the voting machine for the first time. The county is conceded republican. Crownhart, from early indications, will carry this district. A large vote is being polled.

In Brown County.
Green Bay, Wis., Nov. 8.—Ticket splitting is reported as prevailing in the voting here. An unusually heavy vote is being polled. It is thought the county will go republican by a large majority.

Heavy Vote.
Superior, Wis., Nov. 8.—Unusually good weather brought out an unusually large vote here. A landslide for Crownhart and the whole republican ticket was conceded at noon today by those watching the voting.

At Ashland.
Ashland, Wis., Nov. 8.—Great interest is manifested in the Crownhart-Bancroft race for attorney general here. The republicans are conceding the victory. A large vote was polled this morning.

In Green County.
Monroe, Wis., Nov. 8.—Green county's election is split, the chief contest being for assemblyman, Willis Lindow, a wealthy Monroe citizen, being the democratic candidate against Communist and stalwart have united to defeat the La Follette man. Various local matters have been injected into the fight. The county republican ticket will likely be elected.

GENERAL RESULTS OF ELECTION SHOW MUCH EXCITEMENT

First Returns From Boston Show Democratic Gain In That State—Roosevelt on Politics.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Boston, Mass., Nov. 8.—Meagor returns in election today which began to dribble in at 2:30 showed decided democratic gain which, if maintained throughout the state, indicated the election of Fox, the party candidate for governor.

Is Doubtful.
New York, Nov. 8.—Senator Burrows of Michigan, who is in town, expresses confidence that Melanion will send solid republican delegation to congress. At the same time he says the drift throughout the country seems to indicate a democratic house. Such result will virtually paralyze administration and make any party legislation impossible, he says.

In New York City.
New York, Nov. 8.—Early hours at the polls here today indicate the vote will be the heaviest polled in years. Even money is wagered today that Dix will win by 50,000. Weather—snow and sleet.

Unfavorable weather conditions over the entire state today is not hampering a heavy vote, the intense interest in the gubernatorial fight bringing out most every voter.

Roosevelt Votes.
Oyster Bay, N. Y., Nov. 8.—In the family car, Roosevelt drove from Huntington Hill at noon to the polling place in the Fire Company's house in Oyster Bay and cast his vote. Roosevelt, Roosevelt at the same time cast his first ballot. As Kermit never had cast a vote before, he did not know how to do it and his father showed him how. "I intend to proceed with the fight for progressive principles and to make the republican party of this state remain the party of Abraham Lincoln whether we lose or win in today's election," said Colonel Roosevelt today.

Sherman Votes.
New York, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Vice-president Sherman and his three sons cast their votes in Utica, N. Y., at 9:30.

Taft Votes.
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 8.—President Taft reached here to cast his vote shortly after ten o'clock today. The vote here is heavy. Early indications are that Governor Harmon will carry Hamilton county by a large majority.

Pray for Success.
Aberdeen, S. D., Nov. 8.—The women of Aberdeen held meetings in all the churches last night to pray for the passage of the county option amendment to the state constitution in the elections today.

In Chicago.
Chicago, Nov. 8.—With prospects for a cold, cloudy day, the politicians began the task of getting out the vote at five o'clock this morning. The claims of both sides are discounted by revelation that 100,000 "silent voters" who refused to reveal their intentions to canvassers of either party.

The congressional fight in Illinois is almost overshadowed by the legislative election. In three senatorial districts the legislators under indictment for legislative scandals are running for re-election.

Browne Fight.
Streator, Ill., Nov. 8.—The fight of Lee O'Brien Browne, minority leader in the last general assembly and candidate for re-election, brought out a heavy early vote here today. There is every indication that Browne will be re-elected.

Out in Iowa.
Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 8.—Indications are for a light vote in Iowa. In some congressional districts the fight is bitter, but the contest over governorship attracts considerable attention. The weather early was favorable.

In Michigan.
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 8.—The weather was cold and clear. A good early vote was polled. The polls at Detroit close at 8 p. m. and elsewhere five o'clock.

STATE D. A. R. HOLDS ITS ANNUAL SESSION

Election of Officers and Other Important Business to Be Transacted.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Milwaukee, Nov. 8.—Members of the Wisconsin organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution whose state convention opened this afternoon in the Hotel Pfister, are interested in the election of their president. The southern part of the state is for Miss Mary Atwood, daughter of the late Gen. David M. Atwood of Madison, for state regent. Chapters in La Crosse, Antigo and other places urge the election of Mrs. E. H. Van Ostrand of Antigo. At the recent convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs in Oshkosh, Mrs. Van Ostrand's forces did some effective campaigning. The chapters in the southern part of the state have almost without exception instructed their delegates for Miss Atwood, and when the election comes up tomorrow morning it is prophesied that the contest will be a lively one.

Mrs. E. H. Van Ostrand is at present the vice regent under Mrs. Ogden H. Fethers of Janesville, regent, who has served four terms and refuses to accept the title. The other officers are: Secretary, Mrs. Carrie J. Smith; treasurer, Mrs. George F. Gilkey, Oshkosh; honorary regents, the Mrs. Ada P. Kinsbury, Janesville; T. H. Brown, Milwaukee.

This afternoon, 2 o'clock.

UNITED DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY

General Convention Will Be Opened at Little Rock, Ark., This Evening—Large Attendance.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 8.—The Arkansas capital surrendered unconditionally today to an army of fair voters who will remain in possession of the city until the end of the week. The occasion is the annual general convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which has its formal opening this evening. Followed by the beginning of the regular business sessions tomorrow morning. Judging from the number of visitors already arrived the attendance here will be a record for any previous convention of the organization. Every state of the South has a large delegation on hand and other sections of the country are well represented. Much business of importance to the members is to be transacted by the convention. Ample entertainment for the visitors has been prepared by the local chapters. One of the features of the programme will be an excursion to Hot Springs.

STEEPLECHASE AND MANY OTHER EVENTS

On Program of United Hunts Annual Race Meeting at Belmont Park, New York.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Nov. 8.—The annual race meeting of the United Hunts Association began at Belmont Park today and will continue until Saturday. The program is the best ever prepared for a meeting of the association. It provides for two races for horse and rider over the post and rail course each day, two for gallopways, two for qualified hunters over the regulation course, two for hacks or hunters on the flat, two open steeplechases, a flat race for officers of the United States army and a steeplechase for horses owned by officers of the United States army, at two miles.

BRIDE DAUGHTER OF CONGRESSMAN RIXEY

University of Virginia Circles Interested in Notable Wedding at Charlottesville.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 8.—Guests from Washington, Richmond and other points came to Charlottesville today to attend the wedding of Miss Mary Barbara Rixey, daughter of the late Congressman John F. Rixey, and Dr. Robert E. Compton, a member of the medical faculty on the University of Virginia. Included among the guests from out of town were Rear Admiral Rixey, uncle of the bride, and Mrs. Rixey.

CALF WAS BORN TO WHITE HOUSE COW

Pauline Wayne Gives Birth to Bull Calf Which Will Be Called "Big Bill."

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—Pauline Wayne, the White House cow presented to President Taft by Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin, today presented the administration with a bull calf. It was reported the calf was named "Governor Simson," but Taft promised White House newspapermen it should be called "Big Bill." A telegraphic bulletin was rushed to Taft at Cincinnati announcing "Big Bill's" arrival.

ARM OF LAW HAD A 6,000 MILE REACH

For Salem Grease Murder Suspect, Nalbandian, Who Is to Be Tried Next Week.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Salem, Mass., Nov. 8.—The truth of the old saying in regard to the long reach of the law is illustrated in the case of Yahan Nalbandian, which is to be tried at the special session of the Essex County superior criminal court called to convene here next Monday. Nalbandian, a native of Greece, was captured after a chase of 6,000 miles across the Atlantic Ocean and over a large part of Europe and returned to Massachusetts to stand trial for the murder of Thomas K. Monaghan, a fellow-countryman.

Nalbandian and Monaghan lived together in a lodging house in Lynn. A year ago last July Monaghan's body was found in a trunk in his room with a bullet through the heart. It had been dead for several days when found. Nalbandian was indicted. The police allege that Monaghan had several hundred dollars, which also disappeared.

Nalbandian was indicted for first degree murder and the search for him began. The Lynn detectives traced him to New York, thence to England, and then through Germany. Only by jumping from one city to another did the fugitive escape arrest in Germany. On several occasions foreign officials, acting through instructions from the American authorities, were ready to lay their hands on him only to find he had disappeared.

Nalbandian kept working south through Europe. The police lost track of him, and then relocated him at Alexandria, Egypt. Through an acquaintance of Chief Burke of the Lynn police, who had been in Alexandria, the chief got in communication with a mission priest in that city and persuaded him to keep Lynn informed as to Nalbandian's movements.

The priest followed Nalbandian to Siberia in Bulgaria. Here Nalbandian thought himself safe, for the police learned he had started a small clothing store. At the request of Consul Harvey at Bucharest the fugitive was arrested by the Bulgarian authorities and held until the arrival of two Lynn officers who returned him to Massachusetts.

The evidence which the police have against Nalbandian is almost entirely circumstantial. At one time during their investigation they were inclined to the opinion that the shooting was accidental and that Nalbandian fled through fear. The men were friends, and had been seen chatting pleasantly shortly before the time the shooting is supposed to have occurred. The bullet which killed Monaghan was never found. It was neither in his body or in his room.

Nalbandian had a good character in Lynn. The theory was at first suggested that the murder was the work of some secret organization. This idea was abandoned, however, and the general supposition is that robbery furnished the motive for the crime. But even the latter theory is not supported by some of the facts in the case so far as Nalbandian is concerned. It has been learned that when he reached Egypt, Nalbandian was penniless and borrowed a sum of money from the mission father who was following him.

LORD MAYOR'S SHOW WILL BE GORGEOUS

Great Parade Will Mark Installation of Alderman Sir Vezev Strong in London Tomorrow.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, Nov. 8.—According to hints dropped from official sources Londoners will be treated tomorrow to one of the longest and most gorgeous Lord Mayor's parades of recent years, when Alderman Sir Vezev Strong will be formally installed in the office of chief magistrate of the city. For some years there has been a tendency to make the annual Lord Mayor's Show a disintegrated procession of military and civic organizations by cutting out the spectacular features which were formerly associated with the time-honored pageant.

The public, however, did not take kindly to the change and the announcement that this year's procession is to return to the old style of spectacle, with gorgeous floats and gayly-attired horsemen, has been warmly welcomed.

At the same time, in deference to present-day ideas, the pageant tomorrow is to be somewhat "educational" in character. The chief feature will be the inclusion of four or five Shakespeare groups, each containing about fifty performers. The chief object of these responsible for the idea is to arouse the interest of Londoners in the proposed Shakespeare Memorial. In the military division the Territorial Force and the Boy Scouts will be represented for the first time.

TRINITY COLLEGE HAS A NEW HEAD

Many Distinguished Educators Today Witnessed Inauguration of Dr. William Preston Few.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

In a running fight between citizens and the robbers one hundred shots were exchanged and two of the robbers wounded. A posse is still in pursuit.

GENERAL UPRISING IN HONDURAS IS THREATENED TODAY

Old Enemies of President Davila Are Planning Movement to Overthrow Government.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New Orleans, La., Nov. 8.—A general uprising in Honduras, with all old enemies of President Davila, the old enemies of the movement for his overthrow is imminent, according to advice received here.

The revolutionary spirit is spreading throughout the republic and while the people generally do not sympathize with the actions of Valladares, the revolutionary governor of Amoyaca, they are willing to ally with him in making preparations to revive his revolution against Davila.

LABOR VERY ACTIVE IN KEYSTONE STATE

300,000 Organized Workmen Suspend Operations for Day to Take Part in Election.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 8.—One of the unique features of the election today was the general strike of union workmen throughout the state. In response to the call of the State Federation of Labor 300,000 organized workmen suspended work for the day in order to take part in the election. The purpose of the twenty-four hour strike was to give the union men an opportunity to vote and also to work for the candidates endorsed by the labor organizations.

A never before in the history of Pennsylvania have the labor unions taken such an active part in a political campaign as they have in the one this year in an effort to defeat the legislative and congressional candidates who are believed to be opposed to the principles of organized labor.

STORAGE WAREHOUSE FOR CARRIAGE CO.

Contractors Ford & Boos Have Commenced Erection of New Building on Center Avenue.

Ground is being broken on the vacant area between the Ryan and Hunt-rill leaf tobacco warehouses on Center avenue for one-story storage building, about 175 by 80 feet in dimensions, to be used by the Wisconsin Carriage Co. The structure will be covered with sheet metal and contractors Ford & Boos expect to have it completed by December 15. It is expected to accommodate the large number of finished vehicles which are awaiting shipment from time to time.

One hundred hands at the factory are now working full ten hours a day getting out 2,000 cutters for the winter trade. This will exceed by 800 the total built last year and the entire number is practically sold in advance. While some experimental work is being done with the 1911 model Vweco touring cars, the cutler business demands most of the attention just at this time. Later on in the winter when the automobile market can be more accurately gauged there will be renewed activity in that department. The head designer was recently drafted by the Marmon automobile concern.

Jailed for Drunkenness.—Joe McDonald who was fined for drunkenness in municipal court yesterday played a return date there this morning. He could not produce another five-spot and went to jail for eight days. Harry McDonald of Pennsylvania, Jersey Conley and George Engler were unable to pay fines totaling $3 and went to jail for five days each.

VERY LIGHT VOTE WAS CAST TODAY

UP TO NOON IT TOTALED LESS THAN FIVE HUNDRED IN WHOLE CITY.

LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN

Democrats Have Workers Out But General Public Apathetic to Results.

If the indications of the vote up to noon today is any criterion to go by the election today promises to be one of the lightest for many years. While it is an open question as to the average republican voter does not consider the democratic opposition as amounting to a great deal, still the bitter fight for the attorney generalship it would be thought would have brought out a good representation. At twelve the total vote in the city was less than five hundred; to be accurate was 418. When it is considered that the total vote of the city in 1904 was 2,639 and has been even greater, the vote this noon is significant.

Splitting Tickets.
Not only is the vote very light but there is also considerable splitting of tickets. Many former republicans are voting the democratic state ticket, for Hancock, the republican candidate for attorney general, and the republican county ticket, while the straight La Follette men are voting the straight republican ticket with the exception of Hancock whom they are scrutinizing for Crawford, the independent candidate. The democrats are voting their ticket straight, but must move over into the independent column to vote for the democratic county ticket. The fact that the democrats are the only party that is really making any effort to get the vote out would indicate that they expect to carry the city. This is possible as the vote in 1904, a presidential year, when Governor gave La Follette for peck, ran against Peck the city, by a good, clean majority, he carrying every ward. In 1896 when Davidson ran against Aylward, Davidson carried the city and every ward with the exception of the fifth, which he lost by a vote of 91 to 78.

Vote at Noon.
In the first ward at noon today the vote was 42. No count was taken in 1908, but in 1906 it was 159; in 1904, 418; and 1902, 227. At noon today the vote in the second ward was 74; in 1904, 117; in 1902, 204; in 1900, 198. In the third ward this noon the vote was 132; in 1908, 200; in 1904, 451; in 1902, 357. In the fourth ward at twelve today it was 93; in 1908, 148; in 1904, 481; in 1902, 244. In the fifth ward today it was 45 at twelve and in 1908, 57; in 1904, 260; in 1902, 186. In 1906 the total vote in the city at one o'clock was 681, with 1,511 at the same hour in 1904 and 1,364 in 1902. This shows clearly that the interest in today's election is very light and it would not be surprising if the total figures show a democratic victory as far as the state ticket goes. In this connection the vote in 1901, when La Follette and Peck were the two candidates, will be interesting. By wards it was as follows: First, 281; second, 340; third, 494; fourth, 304; fifth, 278. Peck 1901; fourth ward, La Follette 211; Peck 281; fifth ward, La Follette 116; Peck 381.

At the County.
Reports from throughout the county also indicate an extremely light vote in the rural districts. The inspectors report that there is considerable scratching of tickets and this will take time to obtain the final count. In the city, however, where they are using the machines, the results should be known within a few minutes after the polls close at seven. The vote on the question of the bridges, the Racine street and Fourth avenue structures, is also receiving the total vote as the individual voters are handed a separate slip to vote on these questions. Each is voted on separately. The three amendments to the state constitution are also being voted upon but their total will fall below that of the heads of the ticket as many fail to remember them. "The only assembly contest that is at all worthy of the name," was urged by La Follette, the independent democratic candidate who has several times out and seeks to defeat Peck, the regular republican nominee.

OPEN MEETING OF FORUM SOCIETY LAST EVENING

One Hundred Guests Invited to Session in Main Room at High School Building.

An open meeting of the Forum literary society of the high school was held in the main room of the building last evening. Members of the two girls' debating societies, the Lauran and Philanthropic, and of the Lucan League and other guests invited from outside, and the number of about one hundred in all, were present. The meeting was carried out after the usual manner of the meetings of the society, a literary program being given after the regular business. "Resolved, that the street railway should be owned and operated by the city." The affirmative side, Wm. Hemmings and Raymond Blackman won, defeating the negative side, Elmer Kueckow and Bothis Kelly, by a vote of the judges, 2 to 1. Leslie Dodge read a paper on an oyster farm and Winthrop Metcalf told of the Vermont trip. Raymond Blackman and Gerald Wood told of their journey to the entertainment with their music, funny stories, and balanced lyrics. One of the features of the evening was a vocal solo by Prof. V. man, critic of the society.

Patrick T. Joyce.
The funeral of Patrick T. Joyce will take place tomorrow morning at nine o'clock from St. Patrick's church.

CLINTON.

Clinton, Nov. 8.—Ottie Derwaldt has returned from the north and may spend the winter here.
J. R. Switzer, Jacob Snyder and others leave tomorrow for Butterfield, Wis., to hunt deer.
The Methodist and Baptist churches united, just Sunday evening with the Congregational church in a farewell service to Rev. Clyde McGee.
Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Wilson came down from Madison Sunday morning hear Rev. McGee preach his last sermons.
Miss Theobald, head trimmer in Miss Scott's Millinery Emporium, spent Sunday at her home at Oregon, Wis.
Mrs. Katherine N. Snow of Rockford came up to attend Rev. McGee's last services Sunday and returned Monday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Tubbs entertained company from out of town over Sunday.

The suit against Deputy Sheriff Shumway by Mr. and Mrs. Lovason which was to have been tried before Justice of the Peace Herman A. Rogers, was noticed out of court.
Mrs. G. B. Kizer has been quite ill since Friday night.
Alvin Cooper injured the thumb of his right hand in the gears of a feed cutter Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Woodward went to Chicago this morning for a few days. Mr. Woodward goes to buy stock for the holidays.
Election is progressing very quietly here today and a light vote is being cast.

Rev. Larson, pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran church, south of town, received the news of the death of his oldest son in Texas, where he was working on a new railroad in capacity of civil engineer. He was a young man but recently graduated from college and exceptionally well fitted in every manner to meet life's battles, when typhoid fever cut his life short. The sympathy of the entire village and country side goes out to Rev. and Mrs. Larson. Mr. Larson left immediately for Texas to bring the remains back.

Rev. Clyde McGee left Monday morning for his new field of labor at Tracy, Ill. He was accompanied by his friend, Mr. Clarence Crandall, who will assist him in settling in the house, Mrs. McGee and the children and Mrs. Newman expected to leave about Friday of this week.
The concert by Chicago Operatic company, first number on lecture course promises to be the finest thing ever given in Clinton.

MUCH GOLD IS LOST

Large Amount of Last Year's Production Disappears.

More Than 1,300 Tons of Precious Metal Mined Last Year, According to British Home Office—American Miners Expert.

London—More than 1,300 tons of gold were mined last year, according to the British home office. Much of this precious metal has already vanished as completely as though it had never been taken from the ground. What becomes of all the gold is one of the perpetual mysteries which no government has been able to solve. Enormous amounts are supposed to be hidden, or buried, in the various countries. Much of the gold turned into jewelry is practically lost to general observation. The rich and the noble put away their most precious gems for state occasions. They are scarcely ever seen by the public. The gold used in decorating the palaces of the world is virtually lost to the general view. Even the gold taken by the banks and bankers as their coin reserves is often hidden in vaults for years.

The gold mined last year is valued at $450,000,000. The British empire supplied 60 per cent. of the output. Of this proportion, one-third came from the Transvaal and 16 per cent. from Australia. The United States gold mines turned out 22 per cent. of the total production.

The civilized nations of the world are now burning up about a billion tons of coal a year, says the British home office. More than a million tons in addition is wasted in the operation of mining, so that the store of "black diamonds" is being used at a rate which may bring about the extinction of the visible supply in the present century.

The United States is still the greatest coal producer—the total contributing one-third of the total supply. Great Britain is next and Germany is third. Then come, in order, the Austro-Hungarian empire, France, Russia and Belgium. Almost three million persons are engaged in mining coal, which 40 as many more are engaged in all other kinds of mining and quarrying. More than a million coal miners work in Great Britain.

In iron, as in coal, the United States is still ahead of all the rest of the world as a producer, with an output of 16,000,000 to 26,000,000 tons a year. The German empire stands second, Great Britain third and Spain fourth, with 4,500,000 tons.

America leads, too, in the highest proportion of loss of life from accidents in mines and quarries—3.42 a thousand persons employed. The lowest rate is in France, 0.35 a thousand employed. It is a curious fact that while Great Britain mines only two-thirds as much coal as the United States—200,000,000 tons, as against 377,000,000 tons—there are 672,000 coal miners in Great Britain and only 600,000 in the United States.

Turning now to wheat, the incoming crop in the North and South American continent is estimated by Dornbusch at 120,500,000 quarters; that for Europe at 242,500,000 quarters; Asia at 65,000,000 quarters; Africa at 6,500,000 quarters, and Australia at 10,000,000 quarters. A grand total of 452,800,000 quarters. This is 20,000,000 quarters less than the crop of the year before. The United States now grows 82,000,000 quarters, slightly more than the Russian empire, and almost twice as much as India. In the North and South American continent Argentina is second as a wheat producer, and Canada is third. In Europe, France is the second largest wheat producer, with 34,000,000 quarters; Hungary is third, and Italy fourth. Norway grows only 50,000 quarters, but there, as in all the high countries of the north, the people eat oats, rye and buckwheat. Sweden, though in Norway's latitude, grows 820,000 quarters. Turkey in Asia grows 4,000,000 quarters, and Japan 2,750,000 quarters. Algeria (4,000,000 quarters) grows nearly three times as much wheat as Egypt, Germany, Roumania, Bulgaria, Argentina and India all are going to have bumper wheat crops. The United States wheat crop will be 10,000,000 quarters; that of last year, it is estimated.

Dear Takes to Preserve.

Allentown, Pa.—As William Jones, a Schneeknecht Township, was walking along the road through the territory which Col. Harry C. Troxler is enclosing as a game park, he suddenly came upon a beautiful wild deer, the first seen in this country in almost a century. At sight of him it jumped into the bushes. The deer is believed to have come from the Blue mountain, and it is regarded as a peculiar coincidence that it should seek a hiding place in the area which Colonel Troxler selected as ideal for a game park.

104 Costly Swimming Pool.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—Miss Helen M. Gould is to have a private swimming pool at her country seat, Lyndhurst. It will cost about $50,000. The contract has been awarded.
The building will be 140 feet long and 60 feet wide and built of brick. The pool will be 70 feet long by 35 feet wide. It will be lined with mosaic work and the roof will be of glass. "It will be the finest private swimming pool in the country."

Life and Death.

Life is indestructible. It is beyond time and space, and therefore death can only change the form in which it appears in this world.—Tolstoy.

At the Minstrels.

"What," asked Mista Bones of Mista Tambo at the conclusion of the justly celebrated silver and gold dance by Professor Stinglebe—"what am de difference between a red headed brute-man dat gits often a freight train an' lets it run in on de sidin' at a small town at midnight an' a man dat has a whole lot of work to do an' keeps gittin' somebody else ter do it because he lones all de time?"
"How dat?" asked Mista Tambo, nervously strumming his tambourine.
Mista Bones repeated his conundrum, and Mr. Tambo immediately said:
"What am de difference, any way?"
"One am a-workin' de 'switchin' an' de addin' an a-switchin' de 'work' de addin' Mista Bones."
Before the applause had subsided Mr. Stinglebe de Thrope, the celebrated contra tenor, stepped to the footlights and began the rendition of the pathetic ballad, "It Would Have Been All the Same Today if You Hadn't Done What You Did."—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

He Was Under Oath.

The late Professor Rowland of Johns Hopkins university was the most eminent physicist since the days of Joseph Henry. Among his notable achievements in the realm of pure science was the calculation of the mechanical equivalent of heat and the use of gratings in spectrum analysis, for which purpose he devised a machine that could cut 40,000 lines to the inch on a plate of polished metal. In the practical application of his knowledge he was noted as the inventor of the multiplex telegraph apparatus.
Some years ago, testifying in a case involving the Catamaran Power company, in answer to a question on cross examination as to who, in his opinion, was the greatest American scientist, he replied, "I am."
After leaving the courtroom one of the lawyers ventured to criticize his answer for its effect upon the jury, whereupon Rowland exclaimed:
"Well, what else could I say? Wasn't I under oath?"—New York Globe.

The Starboard Light.

"Twice a day for a week I have been harassed by doubt as to how far a man should go in correcting the glaring mistakes of strangers," said the man who enjoys looking in shop windows. "There is an art store downtown where the present window collection includes the picture of a ship. It is elaborately framed, and has a lighthouse carved on the wooden strip at one side, but the artist should never have tried marine work, for he has got the red side light of that vessel on the starboard side. 'Two or three times I've been on the point of going into the store and asking the proprietor either to remove that picture or put a patch of green paint over that red, and each time my nerve has failed me.'"
"I am half hoping that the false side light will cause a collision in that window which will smash the picture, and then my anxiety will be relieved," New York Post.

Protective Coloring of Insects.

A well known little moth with pale green mottled wings is the only case in which I have myself watched the protection afforded by color at work. It was on a summer's evening when I saw this little moth zigzagging up and down with the most extraordinarily irregular flight and a bird pursuing it. Twice the bird swooped and just missed his prey owing to a sudden turn and drop on the part of the moth. And then to my great delight the moth dropped against the stem of a tree on which was growing a greenish gray lichen. The bird swooped again close to the tree, but failed to see the insect and quitted the chase. It took me an appreciable time to detect the little moth resting against the lichen and closely matching it in color.—Sir E. Ray Lankester in London Telegraph.

GIRL CARRIES DEADLY NITRO. Thinks It Pail of Water—Father Saves Her.

Washington, Pa., Nov. 8.—Totally ignorant of the danger that surrounded her and under the impression that she was carrying water, eleven-year-old Mildred Anderson tripped along in each hand a pail of nitroglycerin which had been prepared for shooting an oil well on the Cameron farm near here. As she carelessly swung the pails, laborers stood breathless a hundred yards away, fearing every moment to see the child hurled into eternity. At a quiet command from her father the child set the pails down and was taken out of danger. For the day, unnerved, suspended work on the well.

STANDARD FACES A BIG FINE.

Maximum $30,000 if Convicted in Tennessee Anti-Trust Suit.
Jackson, Tenn., Nov. 8.—The Standard Oil company of Indiana will be brought to bar in the federal court here Wednesday to answer to alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law. The case will be heard before Judge John E. McCall, and is considered of equal importance to the suits heard at Chicago by Judge Kenesaw M. Landis. In the event of conviction on all counts the maximum penalty possible aggregates $30,000,000. The minimum is $1,524,000.

DEITZ GETS BIG BAIL BUT IS REARRESTED

Defender of Cameron Dam is Accused of Attack Upon Man in 1904 When Released.

Hayward, Wis., Nov. 8.—Circuit Judge Wickham at Eau Claire approved a Chicago company's bond of $40,000 for John F. Deitz and Messrs. Zabel and Schultz, Deitz and the Deitz defense committee, brought it here.
The bond was approved and recorded after which procedure Deitz was notified that for a time at least he was again a free man. His wife and Clarence were free. Deitz and his wife bringing his overcoat, Clarence assisted his father to put it on and stepped out on the porch of a few minutes where he proceeded to inhale a few whiffs of the November air.
During this time he was smiling, chatting happily with the people around the jail porch. However, his period of freedom was very short. Barely had the overcoat been placed on him, when Sheriff Madden placed: "Come here, John." Deitz complied and a warrant for the alleged attempted shooting of Patrick McCall on May 8, 1904, was read to him, and once more the famous Cameron Dam defender was placed behind the bars.

MINISTER GIVES HIMSELF UP, Former College President Pleads Not Guilty to Fraud Charge.

Boston, Nov. 8.—Rev. Dr. Norman Plass, former president of Washburn college, Topeka, Kan., and until two months ago the head of the Redeemable Investment company of this city, which was raided last month by the government, surrendered to the federal authorities and pleaded not guilty to a warrant charging him with the use of the mails in a scheme to defraud.

Plass crossed the continent from Victoria, B. C., to face the charges.

The Redeemable Investment company was organized three years ago by Plass and several of his friends, and it was stated that the company held a controlling interest in several mining and timber properties in the west.

MISS ANGLIN MAY LOSE VOICE. Operatic Star to Go Under Knife for Operation on Noses.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Margaret Anglin, star of "The Awakening of Helena Richie," and for several years one of the most popular actresses on the American stage, is in grave danger of losing her voice.

Dr. George W. Whitfield, who is attending Miss Anglin, declared that the condition of her patient's nose and throat was such that a loss of voice sufficient to embarrass her stage career might result unless immediate improvement follows.

Miss Anglin is at the home of a friend resting preparatory to the operation on her nose which will be performed within the next few days.

TROOPS OF TEXAS IN TURMOIL. Sergeant's Conviction of Killing Man Causes Companies to Quit.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 8.—With three line officers and four company officers resigned and three companies urgently requesting the governor to muster them out, the Texas National Guard is demoralized as a result of the recent conviction of Sergeant Manley, Company E, who bayoneted and killed a spectator during President Taft's visit to Dallas a year ago. Taft was given a life sentence in the penitentiary.

THE DISCIPLINE OF TIME SCHEDULES.

"The institution built up on time schedules has become mightier than the man and the man is immensely benefited by the discipline of the institution. Thirty years ago along the great inland rivers of the United States, the Ohio, the Mississippi, the Missouri, the greatest difference was apparent between the river towns and the railroad towns.

"In the river towns steamboat passengers were quite content to wait several days, idling on the levee, whittling or swapping yarns or doing the dole for niente on the hotel piazzas. When far up or down the river the deep bellow of the boat's whistle was heard, day or night, the sleepy town awakened into prodigious and spasmodic activity until the boat had come and gone; then it went to sleep again. Clocks were not needed and all business was conducted on the same easy lines.

"Notas were paid, not when they were due, but when the crops were marketed. An Eskimo who figures years as so many moons, months as so many moons, and days as so many moons, would have found the business methods of the steamboat town wholly normal—steamboat coming down the river, great excitement; while seen in the offing, great excitement—what was the difference? In the railroad towns there was a very different spirit.

"People had clocks in their houses and watches in their pockets; they went to the railroad station on railroad schedule time; the coming and going of the daily trains became definite, regulating and educational events even to those who never traveled; they got into the habit of keeping other appointments; they were beginning to learn that the institution was greater than the individual."

The Engineering Magazine thus discourses on the railroad as an educator. The days of the steamboat and the stage coach are a thing of the past and the easy-going methods of other years are succeeded by an era of clock-like regularity where everybody is expected to be on time.

The thriving little city of Waterloo, Iowa was the terminus of the railroad forty years ago. The one train a day arrived at seven o'clock in the evening and departed at six in the morning. Half a dozen stage lines observed the same time table, and the hotel, with its six bedrooms separated by a narrow hall, was always crowded.

It was an interesting place to stop on a cold winter night and there was no danger of oversleeping in the morning, for at five o'clock the hasty night clerk went up and down the halls ringing a cow bell, and ten minutes later made a second trip, pounding on each door and shouting, "Do you want to take the stage or train?" There was no sleep after that and so Waterloo gained the reputation of being a wide-awake town, early in its history.

Today the trains come and go with such regularity that appointments are made and kept with no thought of being late. The limited trains running between Chicago and New York charge all the way from one to ten dollars excess fare, and if they fail to arrive at destination on time, refund to every passenger in proportion to the excess and the time overdue. The railroads set the pace for promptness in business, and so everything runs on time.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE.

While the postmaster general is devoting so much time and energy to financing his department in the interests of economy, it is interesting to note the money invested in the government print shop, and what it costs to maintain it.

The argument used against the magazine publishers, that they are not news distributors, applies with double force to the government as a publisher, for more of the material sent out finds its way to the waste basket than all other classes of publications combined.

Add to this extravagant waste the cost of free distribution, and you have in a nut shell a fair sample of the unbusiness-like methods of public business, and yet some people think that the government should own the railroads.

According to the "Baltimore Sun" the government printing office is housed in a $2,000,000 building with a $14,000,000 equipment. The annual cost of supporting this department is $20,000,000. It is a model office. Why shouldn't it be? Here are some of the details:

"In spite of the fact that every known practicable labor-saving machine is used at the government printing office, the force required is paid $4,000,000 a year, and there is an appropriation of more than $300,000 for leaves of absence. It requires a million dollars' worth of paper and $600,000 worth of other material for a year's operations. When one goes through the government printing office he finds many wonderful things.

"One room has about eighty line-type machines, the largest number to be found in a single room anywhere in the world. In another are melting pots so large that they hold 15 tons of molten metal. In another room presses are found whose combined output is more than a million impressions every hour. Among all the eighty-seven presses in this room there is not a single pulley or belt in sight, each machine being operated by its own individual motor.

"The printers' ink is applied to forty tons of paper every eight hours. There are card presses which turn out a half-million cards a day. The job office is also the biggest of its kind in the world. It turns out more job work in a single day than the average plant can turn out in a full week. Everything in the way of perfecting equipment is found in this plant."

With this fine equipment and the twenty million dollars a year necessary to support it, the government could save half the money by letting the contract to private parties. This will never be done, but if the department will put a blue pencil force in the proof room, with authority to do business, results along the line of economy would be surprising.

The Chicago man, who offered a time ago to take over the postoffice department, run it at his own expense and pay the government a bonus of $50,000,000 a year for the privilege, knew what he was talking about. The public treasury is a public crib and the "pork barrel" is not the only leak.

This day in history may prove significant, as results of the election will forecast with reasonable certainty the outcome of the national election in 1912. If the state of New York votes as it has talked, democracy will again be in the saddle and its leading citizen will receive a jolt from which it will be difficult to recover. Should Colonel Roosevelt lose out, it will settle his candidacy for the future, as he could not well go before a convention without the support of his own state. The battle of the ballots will be watched with interest.

It is to be hoped that the engineers' strike, threatened, will be averted. The brotherhood is the most conservative labor organization in existence, and this is the first time in its history that a strike order has been threatened. The night crew that they have a just cause for defiance, and the companies can afford to give them most thoughtful consideration.

If defeat comes to any party of the republican state or county tickets, it will be charged to the stupidity of the state central committee in its efforts to force on the party an independent candidate for attorney general. The people are long suffering but they will not stand for this sort of bossism in the interests of personal politics.

The effort to impersonate Belle Elmore, the late wife of Dr. Crippen, is likely to be a failure. The claim is made that the actress is in hiding in Chicago, and will appear on some vaudeville stage at the cycological moment. But for the reproval of two weeks granted the doctor, there would be nothing doing.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

MY HOMELY SWEETHEART.

My sweetheart is not pretty.

She is rather plain of feature.

Nor does she bother her very sensible head concerning her looks, excepting that she is dressed neatly and becomingly.

But my sweetheart has a way about her. She is a charming girl because she is a gracious girl.

So many pretty girls are apt to be capricious or exacting. They demand too much attention. They are "uncertain, coy and hard to please." My girl is not that sort. She is kind and patient and expects no more attention than she is willing to give. And—

My sweetheart does not flirt.

She knows that coquetry is not her forte. She is just a straightforward girl and sweetheart. She is thoughtful of others rather than of herself and is therefore genial and companionable—an ideal chum.

Let those who wish run after the pretty faces.

Beauty is only skin deep; graciousness is soul deep.

Let those who wish dance attendance on the handsome girls. I do not on the handsome ways of my plain girl.

Her quiet sympathies, her helpfulness, her readiness to forgive, her hearty cordiality, are more to me than mere symmetry of face and figure.

Because she is genuine and simple and sweet. Being genuine, she uses no artificial manners to beguile; she is just herself, being simple and without guile, she never tries to deceive. And, being sweet, she cannot be otherwise.

She is not improbably romantic after the manner of some. She is not difficult to please. And she is always safe in counsel.

What a wife she'll make!

She is trustworthy and dependable, my homely sweetheart. When she is married to me I shall not come home to one who sighs for what might have been or indulges in longings to be "understood." She is not built that way. She will look her duties, fairly in the face and meet them cheerfully.

My plain, homely girl!

As my wife she will not seek conquests abroad. Glorifying in her home, she will wrap her gracious soul like a mantle about her husband and children.

Your pretty wife?

I do not envy you. She may have the weakness of vanity and stumble over it or even fall. Pardon me, I said "many."

So here's to my homely sweetheart!

To Make Barley Water.

Barley water is a fancy of the moment, and a famous brew is made at a New York club. Not many people know this recipe, but here it is: Put a "breakfast cupful" of well-washed barley into a dome-shaped strainer. Put this over a two-gallon jug and then add eight lumps of sugar and the rind of eight lemons.

The boiling water must be allowed to drip on to this from a boiler. It ought to drip very slowly, and the barley water should take two hours to brew if it is to be a success. Before setting it on ice to cool off add the juice of half a lemon. When cold it should be quite clear. This of course makes a large allowance.

ON THE PORCH

At the Danvers house the front porch is broad and deeply shaded with vines, so that when one sits at the far end in a winged rocking chair one can see without being seen. It was here that Miss Danvers sat one warm evening while the rest of the family stopped indoors and played bridge.

Miss Danvers loathed bridge and considered the family taste below par in preferring an electric-light card-table to the peaceful glimmer of the moon on a vine-covered porch. And yet, truth to tell, she seemed willing to be alone with her thoughts this pleasant September evening.

She was humming softly to herself, when her brother's voice floated out to her from the room within.

"I say, Ness," said the voice, "have you something on for tonight? Is Rankin coming again?"

"Certainly not," said his sister, severely. "He was here last night—"

"And the night before," added her brother, with a chuckle.

After that their bridge players devoted themselves to the game.

Miss Danvers had begun to hum again and was smiling in the dark, when she heard a substantial tread on the walk below the step. Peering through the vines she recognized Rankin approaching. Miss Danvers sat quite still.

The substantial figure reached the short flight of steps, ascended them and stood in front of the screen door. The man's head was bent abstractedly and his thoughts apparently were elsewhere. As he raised his hand toward the doorknob there arose the sound of an argument from the bridge table within.

Young Rankin started; his arm fell and he pulled himself quickly.

"Well, by George!" he said, under his breath.

At this point he discovered Miss Danvers and realized that she was laughing. He regarded her for a moment with a frown and finally with an answering grin. "Then he approached and sat down beside her, without a word, and they listened to the heated discussion in the room behind them, subdued by the heavy curtains.

"How about that ace?" some one was demanding indignantly. "Well, you see," said another voice, and trailed off into a murmured explanation.

Young Rankin laid his hat on the floor and dug his hands deep into his trousers pockets.

"I think," he remarked, finally, "I might as well make a clean breast of it. I didn't mean to come here to-night, and that's a fact!"

"No," said the girl, smiling.

"No," said Rankin, shaking his head. "I'll not make any pretense of not being glad to be here, but my intended destination was the Marshalls'—young fellow in the office just married and strangers in the city, you know. They're living out here."

"Oh, I see," said Miss Danvers. "It sounds like a falsehood, I know; but it isn't!" asserted Rankin, gloomily. "I started out to call on the Marshalls. Took the train to Hyde Park and walked east from the station and—well, I was thinking of you, that's all, and my feet just naturally brought me here. I only woke up when I heard them talking bridge inside there."

"I see," said the girl again, in quite a different voice. They were both silent.

"I say, Nessie," said the young man, after several minutes, regarding her steadily, "if it's come to the point where I go around making such a fool of myself, as to get lost in Hyde Park, don't you think it's about time you took pity on me?"

Miss Danvers said nothing.

"Or course," said Rankin, "you've known for a long time that I—well—how much I wanted you!"

Miss Danvers shook her head.

"What!" cried Rankin, "after the way I've trailed you around these six months past?"

"You didn't say anything," said Miss Danvers, defensively, "so I didn't know for sure, but I hoped it was so!"

Rankin made a swift movement.

"Don't," said the girl, hastily. "Some one might come out."

"Well, then," decided Rankin, "we'll both call on the Marshalls. She'll be glad to know you, and besides, I want you to see their flat!"

Parla Doctors May Wear Badges.
The Parla Medical society is considering asking physicians to wear badges in the streets and public places so that they can be easily found in case of accidents. It is not infrequent for a person in need of medical aid or acting as a messenger for some one who is in need for a doctor's sign, and at any time he might unknowingly pass a physician.

NEW CAR-BARN CONTRACT LET

YESTERDAY TO JAMES SHEARER AND FORD AND BOOS.

TO BE READY IN JANUARY

Brick Structure With Concrete Floors and Modern Appointments Will Be Finished in 60 Days.

General Manager Chester J. Wilson and Architect F. W. Perkins of Rockford were here yesterday in conference with Attorney Thomas S. Nolan and the contract was let to Shearer, Ford and Boos, for the construction of the new car barn for the Janesville Traction Company, to be located on Eastern Avenue, adjoining the right of way of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company. The old wooden power station will be removed to make way for the new barn.

The barn will be a single story, brick structure, with ordinary roof construction, divided by a fire wall into two bays. One bay will contain two tracks for the storage of cars. The other bay will contain one track, and will be floored with concrete, and will contain a pit for the inspection of motors, trucks, wheels, etc., and a wash table, where the cars can be thoroughly cleaned. This bay will be heated.

Adjoining the single track bay will be a boiler room for the heating plant, a storeroom, and locker room containing lockers and toilet facilities for the men, and an office.

This will constitute a very much needed improvement, and will afford facilities for the maintenance and cleaning of the company's rolling stock that they have not heretofore enjoyed.

The contract will provide that the building shall be complete within sixty working days, which will enable the contractors to deliver to the company for use early in January.

Brooch from Lump of Coal.
A brooch made out of a lump of coal isn't so valuable as a diamond brooch, but it has the merit of rarity. An Englishwoman possesses one, which was carved for her by a miner, with the aid of a knife and file. The design is a star, showing up against a rough cast background.

Here's to the Peanut.

If one touch of Nature makes the whole world kin, certainly the peanut is a touch that makes men, pigs, chickens, cows, all appreciate at one time the real delights of that never-satisfying tidbit—the peanut.

Bring your silverware tomorrow and we will clean it at our demonstration. Sheldon Hardware Co.

WILL GIVE RESULTS ON SCREEN TONIGHT

Gazette Will Receive Returns From All Parts of the County State and Country.

This evening at seven the first election returns will be received at the Gazette office and as fast as possible will be thrown onto the big screen opposite the office by a lantern which will be in charge of Prof. Arlinoth of the high school faculty. The returns from the city will be secured as soon as counted by messengers who will be at each of the polling places and from the county by special arrangements with the town clerks and special Gazette representatives who will telephone them in complete as soon as counted. By arranging with the Beloit Free Press the results from Beloit will be secured and as they use voting machines in several precincts they should be in early. As this will mean an almost constant use of the two telephones in the office the general public are requested to refrain from calling up and asking for results as there will not be time to answer the requests. The figures will be thrown onto the screen in front of the office as fast as possible and totals as soon as figured. As there is considerable interest in Milwaukee and Madison results, special arrangements have been made to receive returns from there during the evening. The general news service however comes through the United Press. This service will be received over the news disseminating telephone, Code 19, directly in the editorial rooms and be handed to those who will have charge of machine so that little or no time will be lost in giving it to the public.

As there is considerable work entailed in handling the report it will be necessary to keep the office closed to all except those who are working so that the best results may be obtained. The United Press service will furnish the report from all the battle centers including New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Ohio, Rhode Island, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Iowa and elsewhere. As the vote in New York will be over before the Janesville vote is finished, it will be the first received. In all twelve hundred words will be received by telephone in addition to a considerable amount by telegraph.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish hereby to thank the kind friends and neighbors who so kindly aided us in our bereavement. Also for the beautiful floral offerings we give thanks.

MRS. JAS. MCCUE AND SONS.

MADE UP.

Miss Spite—There goes Kate Home-

ly. Miss Dig—Yes, she played the part of the heroine in the private-theatricals at the church.

Miss Spite—Gracious! Did she have the face to play the heroine?

Miss Dig—No; but the customer fixed one up for her.

SHOULD FEEL GRATEFUL

O'Rourke—He ought to be glad to be dead. He never had any of the blessings of the rich.

O'Rafferty—'Tis true. The only time he ever rode in a carriage was when he went to his funeral.

NEEDS A LITTLE CASH

"Will you spend the summer at the seashore?"

"I would if the summer was the only thing one was obliged to spend there."

BRIEF PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. E. F. Farrington, who has been seriously ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. T. H. Cullen, Lincoln street, returned to Fulton yesterday.

F. P. Connors and Dr. Judd were called to Chicago, Sunday, by the illness of the former's son, J. Francis Connors, who is in the Lake View hospital with an attack of appendicitis. It was feared that an operation would be necessary but examination showed that the inflammation could be reduced.

J. Howard of Baraboo was in the city last evening looking for strippers for Klingling Bros., whose shops open Nov. 15.

Mrs. David Clark has gone to Waukegan to visit Mrs. Mae McKinzie. Roy Church of Madison University and Ernest Ward of Rockford spent Sunday at the home of Chas. Sykes.

Edw. Amerpohl has been appointed one of the three judges at the Milwaukee Flower Show. He will be absent from the city for four days, beginning tomorrow.

G. W. Dudley and H. E. Torpening, superintendent and assistant superintendent respectively of the Wisconsin division of the Northwestern railroad, were in the city last evening.

Ed. O. Smith is in Chicago today. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller are visiting for two days in Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Zimmerman spent Sunday in Lod.

Fred Gordon was here from Milton last evening.

Rev. O. Hermsstedt of Hanover was in the city last evening.

D. D. C. Kleber of Amersfoort, Holland, is stopping at the Hotel Myers. Archibald Wray is in the city, the guest of his mother, Mrs. J. G. Wray.

Mr. Wray is on a business trip to St. Paul and Winnipeg, leaving tonight.

Mrs. George Leaver has left for a week's visit at Cross Plains.

Arthur Baumann is home from an extended trip on the road.

Mrs. W. P. Sayles spent yesterday in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harris returned from an over Sunday visit in Chicago last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Levy spent Sunday in Chicago, returning last evening.

Mrs. John Fisher was a Chicago visitor Monday.

State Veterinarian Clark went to Madison this afternoon.

GOMEZ URGES REVISED TARIFF.

Cuban Congress Meets and President Delivers Annual Message.

Havana, Nov. 8.—With the meeting of congress the first matter of importance to come up was the reading of the annual message of President Gomez.

Among the chief topics discussed by the executive was the tariff. The message declares the old law is obsolete, and there is a crying demand for sweeping revision along the lines of granting greater protection to home manufactures.

The president calls attention to the fact that the health of the island never was better than at the present time, and the statement was made that there is not now a single case of yellow fever within the jurisdiction of the republic. It also is pointed out that exports have shown a large increase. Figures are quoted to show that for the first six months of 1910 the value of merchandise shipped abroad exceeded that for the same period of 1909 by $20,000,000.

WHO IS MAYOR OF ST. PAUL?

Attorney General Rules Last Election Was Not Regular.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 8.—Who is mayor of St. Paul? Herbert P. Keller was never regularly elected, under a ruling handed down by George T. Simpson, attorney general. The last legislature changed the law governing the closing of the polls in cities so that the polls are now open until nine o'clock, but in spite of that the polls at the city election last May were closed at seven. Many voters, it is declared, were disfranchised by this and the election of Keller, for that reason, was not legal. Daniel W. Lawler was the last mayor of St. Paul. The change in the law was made quite surreptitiously, by the legislature.

MINE VICTIMS HARD TO REACH.

Fifteen Bodies Are 2,200 Feet Down In Mexican Cave-In Shaft.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 8.—Recovery of the bodies of the 15 men who were killed by the explosion in the Lawson mine of the Pacific Coast Coal company promises to be a long and expensive task. The explosion destroyed the timbers of the shaft, which is 2,200 feet deep, and permitted the overhanging shale rock to cave in. It may be necessary to rebuild the entire shaft to reach the bodies.

Ropes Five Steers In 3:23 4-5.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 8.—Bert Wier of Monument, N. M., won the world's championship in the annual roping contest at Juarez, Mexico, roping and tying five steers in 3 minutes 23 4-5 seconds.

CHICAGO POLICE FORCE SHORT.

Officers Are Taken Off Strike Duty to Guard Election Polls.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Inability to detail policemen to preserve the peace at the many tailoring shops affected by the garment workers' strike and at the same time to prevent disorder at the 1,322 polling places in Chicago today, compelled Chief of Police Stewart to appeal to the clothing manufacturers to shut down places of business today. He said that nearly all of the strike-bound places promised to comply. Accordingly, most of the policemen who have been assigned to strike duty for the last week were temporarily withdrawn and detailed to polling places.

FRENCH AVIATOR WINS $5,000.

Latham Flies Over Baltimore City in Presence of Thousands.

Columbus, O., Nov. 8.—Phil O. Parmelee, one of the Wright brothers' airplane operators, made the fastest cross-country flight ever made in a biplane. He flew from Dayton to Columbus, passing over South Charleston and London.

The air line distance as given by the Wrights is sixty-five miles. The flight was made at a height of 3,000 feet in sixty-six minutes. Parmelee carried $1,000 worth of silk for a dry goods firm. It is said this is the first time the biplane has been put to such commercial use.

ASKS WARRANT FOR ROOSEVELT.

Magistrate Denies Request of Mrs. Ida M. Von Clausen.

New York, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Ida M. Von Clausen, who at one time threatened to bring a $1,000,000 suit against President Roosevelt, appeared in the Tombs police court and asked for warrants for the arrest of Colonel Roosevelt and Henry L. Stimson, accusing them of having misappropriated money belonging to the United States. She offered Magistrate Herbert a package of newspaper clippings, saying: "Here is the evidence." Her request was denied, and she also was refused summons.

Insurgent Capture Town.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Nov. 8.—The insurgents have captured Nico Perez, a small town about 125 miles north of Montevideo. The government is still sending troops into the interior.

Bohemian Morals.

PATTEN CUTS FORTUNE BY $200,000 DONATION

Northwestern Medical School Gets Sum to Establish Chair of Pathological Research.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—James A. Patten, Evanston millionaire and retired board of trade operator, has given $200,000 to Northwestern Medical school to found a chair devoted to pathological research.

The death of Mr. Patten's brother George from tuberculosis a couple of months ago is ascribed as furnishing him the reason for making this large donation to fight insidious disease of all sorts.

"Mr. Patten already has turned over to the school securities for the $200,000," said Dr. Arthur H. Edwards, dean of the school. "The new chair will be installed at once and we hope to accomplish a great deal toward the alleviation of suffering from disease in the United States. We will devote the major share of our attention to the investigation of tuberculosis, although Mr. Patten does not expect us to confine our activities to any single field of research."

"I have received several bushels of letters asking for slices of my fortune, since I announced my intention of giving it all away before I die," said James A. Patten. "I shall succeed in getting rid of the money, but these begging persons will get none of it. Receiving of begging letters is an old story with me. Various charitable organizations as well as individuals ask for donations."

DICKINSON BACK AT CAPITAL.

Secretary of War Returns From Trip Around the World.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Jacob M. Dickinson, secretary of war, returned home last night from his tour around the world, his journey extending over more than three months.

The party, which included Mrs. Dickinson, was met at the station here by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army.

Jacob M. Dickinson.

"We left this country on July 28," said the secretary, on landing in New York, "and went to the Philippines, where we spent five weeks in examining the administration of army affairs and various matters pertaining to the service. On the way there we passed through Tokio. After leaving the Philippines we went to China, and at Peking I presented a letter from President Grant to the prince regent. Thence by way of Siberia we went to St. Petersburg and to Berlin. The object of our trip was to inspect and consider army affairs in the Philippines."

WHEN you buy an Overcoat, you have several things in mind; you know just what they are. We'll mention them, and you see how near we come to it. For one thing you want warmth; that's the primary purpose of an overcoat; you wouldn't buy one if the weather wasn't cold. You want a style, a model you think is becoming to you; that makes you look well to other people. You care something about what you pay for it; if you don't you ought to; don't care how rich you are. And you care what you get for the money you pay.

That's about all we think. We give you the statement of your own state of mind, because the finger of everyone of these requirements is pointing you to this store—follow the pointer.

Here you'll find every sort of good overcoat. The warmth of all wool fabrics is in them; the styles and models are here such as come only when the best style centers are picked and chosen of their best; the novelties in fashion; the choicest weaves, colors, patterns which the best weavers in the world can produce. As for prices, and value for the prices, we are glad to have you make any test or comparison that pleases you; your judgment will simply confirm what we know; that this is the greatest overcoat store in Janesville.

Men's and Young Men's Overcoats $10 to $30

Great display of unusual values in Overcoats at $14.75. Every garment is distinctive; the materials of highest excellence; the styles of critical exactness. There are so many of them, and the value in them is so great, we think you'll be influenced by that more than anything else.

VALUE OF CHANGED SURROUNDINGS.

A horse soon loses flesh if he is carelessly driven, even though he is not worked hard and eats freely. Nutrition is as much dependent upon the mental state as upon the character of the food and the integrity of the digestive organs. To change the mental attitude is often more important than to change the food, as a means of increasing weight, and overcoming irritability and to change the surroundings is often the only course to change the mental attitude. It is not usually the better food, air or water, so much as the change of mental state effected by the changed surroundings and associates, that effects the improvement from a vacation.

This will Stop Your Cough in a Hurry

Save $2 by Making This Cough Syrup at Home.

This recipe makes a pint of better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.00. A few doses usually conquer the most obstinate cough—stages even whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You can feel this takes hold of a cough in a way that makes business. It has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles.

The effect of pine on the membrane is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe has attained great popularity throughout the United States and Canada. It has often been imitated, though never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

YOU MAY learn to consume your own smoke. The atmosphere is darkened by the murmuring and whistling of men and women over non-essentials, the trifles that are inevitably incident to the hurly-burly of the day's routine. Things cannot always go your way.

Learn to accept in silence the minor aggravations, cultivate the gift of tactfulness (about them), and consume your own smoke with an extra draught of hard work, so that those about you may not be annoyed by the dust and soot of your complaints.—William Oslor.

While waiting for a boat to sail the other day I amused myself by watching one of the large river dredges work.

Have you ever seen one? How foolish! Of course you have. And don't you think it is fascinating to watch the big scuttles with the wide open mouth slowly descend into the river, slowly swing up again and discharge its mouthful of mud into the scow with a precision and care that makes the thing seem almost unhuman?

I do. I can watch that world scoop for half an hour at a time without being bored. But on this occasion, as I started to tell you when I digressed, I observed something particularly interesting and suggestive about the mud scow.

And that was the fact that while the scow was going down into the water—a process which presumably doesn't take very much power—the chimney belched forth a stream of heavy black smoke. But while the scow, filled with mud, was being slowly lifted to the surface, while every chain was straining and creaking with the weight it was lifting, there was practically no smoke coming out of that chimney.

Isn't that the way with people? Those who are really doing something, really lifting some big weight, aren't usually belching forth any useless vapors. And those who are always just getting ready to do things can be very easily distinguished by the amount of vapor they are sending forth.

Great power is almost always quiet. It flows silently in a deep channel. It consumes its own smoke. It keeps its counsel while weakness chatters, and folds its arms and waits while weakness runs back and forth and to and fro in a passion of activity.

Think of someone whom you admire for strength of character and "bigness." Isn't he or she a quiet person tending to taciturnity rather than talkativeness, to reserve and restraint rather than hurry?

Isn't he like the mud scow in action, not sending forth any smoke or vapor, because he is doing something that consumes it? And if you admire him, can't you be the same?

WOMEN IN THE CHURCH.

By MARY RUSSELL.

In a recent great Sunday School convention a minister said:

I am almost ashamed when I study the church membership rolls. There are 3,000,000 more women than men members. We are letting the women do the work. If there is a deficit to make up, a new carpet to lay, or repairs to be done we shoulder it off on the women's aid society.

On the battlefield of righteousness our soldiers are represented by the women.

That is no new thought. Ever since Mary Magdalene anointed the feet of Christ with precious ointments and wiped them with her glorious tresses the women of the Church of Christ have been anointing the feet of the religious leaders and drying them with their tresses.

Had it not been for women and their loving service the world would still be in darkness in many portions of the globe. Women have gone out as missionaries, they have helped to build churches, they have furnished the very shelves of the body of the church.

A man gives from his abundance according to his means. If he is a man in moderate circumstances he gives from his whole family. The women and the children must deny themselves that his contribution may be much good.

And a woman gives herself. She works over "comfort" for the annual sale. She gets up a doll sale at Christmas time. She gives a Thanksgiving dinner. She sews the carpet, she has worked to buy, and if no man volunteers, she puts it down with much toil and self-sacrifice. She finds that a new roof must be put on the church and she gives candles and tapers to raise the money. The minister's salary is behind and she gets out and Backache resulting from weak kidneys, a bad cold or other cause, usually renders the sufferer unfit for work and often results in permanent disability.

"I suffered for years with my back, or kidney trouble, and have tried a number of remedies from different physicians. More than a year ago, one of our local druggists induced me to try Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and after using them some three months I found a decided improvement in my kidneys, and I am glad to say that I hope soon to be fully restored to health." J. P. ALLEN, Ex-Judge City Court, Glasgow, Ky.

As long as pain is present in any part of the body rest is impossible and the system becoming weakened is exposed to any form of disease to which the sufferer may be inclined.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills by steadily the irritated nerve centers, make refreshing sleep possible, thereby enabling the body to recover lost strength. As a remedy for pain of any description Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are unsurpassed.

Ways of Serving Tripe.

Tripe is the digestive stomach of beef or veal. It is, when well prepared, so easily digested that many physicians order it for persons suffering from digestive troubles.

To prepare it on the farm, take the stomach from a freshly-killed animal and wash it thoroughly; then let it soak over night, changing the water several times. Make a kettle of strong lye water, cut the tripe in pieces and drop a few at a time in the boiling lye and cook six minutes. Take out and lay on a board and scrape well with a knife until the brown lining is removed and the meat is clean and white. Wash thoroughly, and let stand in a weak salt brine for two days, then boil in salted water until tender. This will take several hours. Now it is ready to be served in any number of ways.

The Spanish people serve tripe in the following appetizing way:

Spanish Tripe.

Place several pounds of tripe in a baking pan. Pour over it a quart of chopped tomatoes, a cupful of chopped onion, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, one chopped sweet red pepper and half a cupful of melted butter. Bake an hour in a moderate oven.

Pickled Tripe.

Make a spiced vinegar, using a pint of vinegar, three cloves, a dozen pepper corns, half a bay leaf, one sliced onion and a teaspoonful of salt. Pour hot over the tripe and keep in a cool place. Dip in corn meal and fry with bacon fat. This makes a good breakfast dish.

Tripe Fried.

Roll pieces of tripe in flour and fry in hot lard. When brown, remove and serve with the sauce made from a chopped onion browned in butter, a cupful of tomato juice and a tablespoonful of peppercorns. Boil up and pour around the tripe.

Tripe Fritters.

Make a fritter batter of one egg, a cupful of milk, a pinch of salt, a dash of pepper, a teaspoonful of baking powder and flour to make a drop batter. Into this dip pieces of tripe and fry brown in deep fat.

Portrait—A Game.

In the game called portrait one person leaves the room while the others choose the name of some one they all know. The person on re-entering the room has to guess the name selected by asking questions, which must be answered only by "Yes" or "No." For instance, "Is it a man?" "No." "Is it a woman?" "Yes." "Is she married?" "No." "Is she tall?" "How do you fair hair?" "Are her eyes blue?" "Is she in this room?" and so on till the portrait is recognized.

Sometimes the company choose the one who went outside to be the portrait, which naturally makes the guessing rather more difficult.

What Feet Are These?

There's a foot that's played all over our land.

There's a foot that is often seen in the sand.

There's a foot that crosses many a stream And a foot we sometimes strike in a dream.

There's a foot that marches in rain or shine And a foot that has measured many a line.

There's a foot which makes for our feet a rest And a foot which is heard from east to west.

Answers.—Football, footprint, foot-bridge, footboard, foot soldier, foot-rule, footstool, footstep.

Conundrums.

What is a soldier's definition of a "kick?" A post at headquarters.

Why is a crow like a lawyer? He likes to have his cases (caws) heard.

Which is the hardest of all soaps? Cast steel (castile).

Why does a duck go under water? For divers reasons.

What killed Julius Caesar? Roman punches.

When will there be only twenty-five letters in the alphabet? When U and I are one.

Freckle-Face

If the Fall Winds Brought Out Un-sightly Spots, You Can Remove Them Easily.

Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face?

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from The Badger Drug Co., and one night's treatment will show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion.

Now that the Fall winds have brought a crop of freckles to most women, there is an unusual demand for Othine and in November the drug-gist sometimes finds it difficult to get sufficient to supply all calls. Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as it is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

Cookery Points

Pommes Parbennues.—Parse some firm cooking apples and cook them gently in a thin sirup of sugar and water to which several thin strips of lemon rind have been added. Remove the apples and set them aside to drain and cool.

When required for table arrange them in a deep glass dish surrounded by abundance of broken lemon jelly piled between and around the fruit. Cover each apple with a cone of stiffly whipped sweetened cream. Serve very cold.

Apple Cuts.—Make a stiff apple purée, sweeten to taste and stir in a little softened gelatin. Set aside to cool. Meanwhile cut some slices of sponge cake, trim them neatly and lay them on a flat dish. Moisten each with a little fruit juice, and when the apple purée is partly cool cover each sponge slice with a layer of purée, keeping the whole shape. When quite cold arrange on lace paper doilies or in an ornamental dish. Ornament with cut angelica and crystallized violets.

Pommes Pointees.—Peel, core and quarter some good cooking apples. Cook them gently till tender and set aside till quite cold. Arrange them in a deep glass dish, cover with Devonshire cream, scatter chopped pistachio nuts over all and serve as cold as possible with water biscuits or sponge fingers.

Apple Salad.—Peel and core some eating apples of good flavor. Cut the fruit into thin slices. Arrange these in a pretty glass dish, sprinkle among the fruit some finely chopped nuts and shredded pineapple, dust with caster sugar, moisten with a little fruit juice and serve very cold.

Good Things to Know.

Watercress mixed with two or three tablespoonfuls of minced crisply fried bacon and dressed with vinegar, salt and pepper makes a tasty supper salad.

Boiled rice dropped by tablespoonfuls around fried chicken or meat ragout makes a dainty border. But the rice should not be pressed down into a solid mass, as many cooks unthinkingly do it. It is as important to lovers of rice that it be light and fluffy as it is that bread should be of such a quality.

For a cheese rice custard for a substantial dinner or an entrée, mash a cupful of rice to a paste, add an egg and a cupful of milk, season with a teaspoonful of butter, a tablespoonful or two of grated cheese, a little salt and pepper and turn into a baking dish or custard cups. Bake until the custard sets and the top is brown.

After Dinner Coffee.

Cafe noir is a strong decoction of black coffee which is served in small cups and is often partaken of unsweetened or merely flavored with a teaspoonful of brandy, or it may be sweetened with a spoonful of stiffly whipped cream on top of each cup.

To produce Turkish coffee the coffee is put into its little metal pot in the proportion of two large tablespoonfuls of coffee, two lumps of sugar and half a pint of boiling water. Allow it to boil and bring it to a boil three times, after which pour it off into hot cups. This coffee should be served without milk or cream.

Bird's Nest Pudding.

Parse and core six large, sound apples, then put them into your well buttered bloat pan; now mix together five heaping teaspoonfuls of flour, one scant teaspoonful of salt and one cupful of milk into a smooth paste, then add the yolks of three well beaten eggs; add the whites and another cup of milk; pour this over the apples; bake one hour; serve hot with hard sauce or sweetened whipped cream flavored with lemon extract.

Peanut Cookies.

Shell and rub off the inner skin of sufficient roasted peanuts to measure one pint when chopped fine. Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter and one cupful of sugar; add three eggs, two tablespoonfuls of milk, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, the chopped nuts and sufficient flour to make a soft dough. Roll out, cut in circles and bake in a moderate oven.

Cream of Celery Soup.

To two stalks of grated celery and one-half cupful of boiled rice add one pint of warm milk and simmer all together gently until the celery and rice can be pressed through a sieve. Season to taste after adding one quart of hot milk thickened with a little corn-starch dissolved in cold water. Serve hot with toasted bread sticks.

To Whip Cream.

If the bowl of cream is kept in a pan of ice water during beating there will not be the embarrassment of seeing it come to butter when butter is the last thing that is wanted. The cream should be very cold before the work begins.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Nature warns you when the track of health is not clear. Kidney and bladder trouble compel you to pass water often through the day and get up many times during the night.

Unhealthy kidneys cause indigestion, rheumatism, cough of the bladder, pain or difficulty in the back, joints or muscles, at times have headache or indigestion, as time passes you may have a yellow complexion, grey or dark circles under the eyes, some times feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition but no strength, get weak and lose sleep.

If such conditions are permitted to continue, serious results are sure to follow. Bright's disease, the very worst form of kidney trouble, may steal upon you.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the least recognized by patient and physician, who usually content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease constantly undermines the system.

A Trial Will Convince Anyone.

If you feel that your kidneys are the cause of your sickness or run down condition, commence taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to improve, they will help the other organs to health. In taking Swamp-Root, you afford natural help to Nature for Swamp-Root is a gentle healing herbal compound—a physician's prescription for a specific disease.

You cannot get rid of your aches and pains if your kidneys are out of order. You cannot feel right when your kidneys are wrong.

Swamp-Root is Pleasant to Take.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifteen and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., which you will find on every bottle.

SAMPLE BOTTLE FREE.—To prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root, you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands of letters received from men and women who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy they needed. This valuable and sure cure for Swamp-Root is a gentle healing herbal compound—a physician's prescription for a specific disease.

You Can Be Made Well If You Will Come to the Chiropractors

Every disease known to mankind yields to Chiropractic adjustments. Chiropractic is a science of old truths, the most wonderful aid to mankind in centuries. It's a new science, that analyzes and locates unerringly the physical cause of disease, and provides a means of adjusting or removing this cause more promptly, radically and permanently than any other method known at the present time. There's no room for doubt.

HUGHES GIVES FIRST OPINION.

Conveyance of Land to Missouri Bank

Upheld by Justice.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Justice

Charles E. Hughes delivered his first opinion in the Supreme court of the United States when he announced the decision of the court in a case where an attack was made on a conveyance of valuable land in Trenton, Mo.,

by Dr. James H. Kerfoot, deceased, to the First National bank of Trenton.

Robert Earl Kerfoot, a son of Doctor

Kerfoot, sought to have the deed set aside on the ground that the bank had no authority under its charter to receive the land. Justice Hughes held that it had long been decided that only the government could object to the exercise by a federal bank of power beyond its charter, and upheld the conveyance.

Justice Hughes delivered his opinion in a clear case that marked him as a rival of Justice Lurton for distinctness in announcing decisions of the court.

LUTHERAN DIVINE WILL PREACH HERE

Rev. T. B. Roth, Prominent Lutheran of the East, Will Occupy Local Pulpit on Nov. 13 and 20.

Rev. T. B. Roth, D. D., a noted Lutheran of the East, will preach at St. Peter's, English Lutheran church in this city next Sunday morning and the Sunday following, Nov. 13th and 20th. He is coming west from his home in Greenville, Pa., to make a visit on his son, the Rev. P. H. Roth, at Beloit, and it is on account of this fact that Janesville people will have an opportunity to hear him. Dr. Roth was for many years president of Third College, Pennsylvania, and is at present the editor of The Young Lutheran.

Many will remember his strong address on "Plymouth Rock and Other Rocks" delivered here several years ago. He is a preacher of unusual force, and will, no doubt, be greeted by large congregations.

ROLLER SKATING RACE AT THE RINK TOMORROW NIGHT

Three of Speediest Skaters in This Section Are Entered For Speed Contest on Local Floor.

An event that will interest the roller skaters is the race which will take place tomorrow evening at the West Side Skating Rink. Three speedy skaters, the fastest in this section, are entered for the contest and it promises to be a royal good sport. The crowd took great enjoyment in the match Saturday evening in which Fibyne, a local youth, was matched against Fibyne, a speedy skater from Chicago, who is now living in this city. Fibyne was defeated but says that he can win from Fibyne when the two compete again. These two will participate tomorrow evening as will also Getz, the Rockford champion. Getz is clever on the wheels and last year lost to Fibyne only on a fluke. The race will undoubtedly be the best run off on the local floor.

Was at Work With a Large Wrench in Steam Laundry When Accident Happened.

When a wrench with which he was working in the Beloit Steam Laundry slipped on a pipe that was held fast in a lumber's vice, Ernest McNitt of Janesville, employed as washman, lost his balance and fell, fracturing the larger bone of his left leg below the knee. The accident happened Saturday and Mr. McNitt was taken to the emergency hospital.

TOWN OF PORTER WAS SCENE OF HAPPY WEDDING

Miss Margie McGinley Was Married to Mr. Charles Kelly Last Thursday.

County Line, Nov. 7.—At St. Michaels church in Porter at nine o'clock Thursday morning, Nov. 7, Rev. Father Heelan spoke the words that united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Margie McGinley and Charles Kelly, two of our much esteemed young people. The couple were attended by Anna McGinley of Beloit, sister of the bride, and James Reilly of South Porter. After the ceremony about seventy-five guests accompanied the happy couple to the home of the bride's father, where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served. The afternoon was spent in music and dancing. Many pretty and useful gifts were left to the young couple and the guests departed wishing them many years of health and happiness.

A large delegation of old friends and neighbors went to Stoughton on Friday to attend funeral services and to follow the remains of Henry Pratt to their last resting place in Cooksville cemetery. Mr. Pratt was an early settler in this community and we extend our sympathy to the sorrowing wife and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Erickson are the happy parents of a two-year-old boy, born Nov. 1st.

Miss Minnie O'Neill has returned to her home in South Porter after spending a couple of months at John Highland's.

Erick Erickson spent the past two weeks working for Will Lawrence. Mrs. James Crowley and children of Janesville called on friends and relatives here the latter part of the week. The Jacobson boys from near Edgerton, called on friends here Sunday.

Miss Laura Furbush is spending a few days at the home of Miss Minnie O'Neill in South Porter.

Andrew Johnson is spending a few weeks with Judd McCarty.

Miss Ethel Anderson spent last week the guest of her aunt, Mrs. D. J. McCarthy at Stoughton.

Mrs. Will Nichols was a Brooklyn visitor the early part of last week. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Whalen of that place.

Chas. Gibbs of Elgin, Ill., spent the latter part of the week at Jas. McCarthy's Sr.

EDGE OF ENGINE TANK CUT GASH THROUGH UPPER LIP

Fireman R. K. Smith Employed by Northwestern Road Painfully Injured Sunday Night.

R. K. Smith of this city, extra fireman employed by the Northwestern railroad, had a gash about two inches long cut through his upper lip Sunday night while just starting out on train No. 680, regular freight train passing through this city to Chicago. Smith had been working on the tank of the tender, and in climbing down, his foot slipped on one of the steps. The lip was cut through by the edge of the tank. Smith's injuries were dressed and another fireman secured to go out on the run. Smith but recently returned to work after having off an account of mashing the end of a finger in the bell ringer of an engine.

COOKSVILLE.

Cooksville, Nov. 7.—Jas. Porter and wife were business visitors in Janesville last week.

Several members of the O. E. S. attended a banquet in Evansville on Monday evening, Oct. 31. A delightful six-thirty dinner was served after which a program was rendered. Those attending report a fine time.

Wm. Gillies of Janesville is spending a short vacation with his parents. The students from this locality who are attending high school were home on a vacation last Thursday and Friday on account of the teachers' convention in Milwaukee.

The local chapter O. E. S. entertained the Festivity and Stoughton chapters last Thursday evening. The latter chapter conferred the degrees and two new members were taken into the order. At the close of the evening a tempting supper was served to about sixty. The Masonic and dining hall were each decorated with crepe paper in the different colors of the order and an abundance of cut flowers and potted plants added to the attractiveness of the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Cory, Mrs. Edson Brown and Mrs. Frank Lowry who came up from Portville on Thursday evening to attend the Eastern Star meeting, were over night visitors with Mrs. Elsie Savage.

Henry Pratt, who died last week at his home in Stoughton, was brought to this place on Friday and tenderly laid at rest in the Cooksville cemetery. He resided on a farm in this vicinity for a number of years. He had been a Mason for over forty years, having joined the local lodge in the early days of his settlement. He leaves a wife and five children, three sons and two daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Edith Spear and daughters, Dora and Edith, spent Friday afternoon at home of Ivelle Johnson.

J. Robertson, wife and Miss Wilma Bates were Evansville visitors on Saturday.

Wm. Porter is having cement floors put in his barn on his farm east of here.

BRODHEAD.

Brodhead, Nov. 8.—Mr. Chas. Moor and daughter, Miss Mabel Moor, of Manchester, South Dakota, are in Brodhead on a visit to relatives and friends.

Misses Mabel Alexander and Florence Meier were guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Schindler in Monroe on Sunday.

Miss Kathie Knudson of Monroe, who was the guest of Brodhead friends for a few days, returned to her home on Monday.

Mrs. Mahan was a guest of friends in Monroe Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Penner, who have been spending some time in the vicinity of Kalispell, Montana, arrived home Sunday. They report a delightful time.

Dr. and Mrs. George H. Meier of Boulder, Colo., former Brodhead residents, spent a few days here during the past week, leaving on Monday. They have only good words for their new home.

Messrs. V. M. Kuezel and Will Kibbe left on Monday for Togo on a hunting trip.

Chas. Olson, son of Mayor and Mrs. C. H. Olson, left for Chicago Monday where he accepts a position with The Marsh Company, makers of cement machinery.

Mrs. May Culp of Madison, spent Sunday in Brodhead the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pratt.

Miss Rene Emminger spent Sunday in Albany with relatives.

Miss Pearl Klotzky of Oshkosh, was a guest on Sunday of Miss Phoebe Nolly.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnson spent Monday in Janesville.

John Bohndel, a former Brodhead boy, but now of Lodi, was here before noon on Monday to see his brother, Marj.

Miss Marie Mooney of Madison, was the guest of her mother and brother, Mrs. M. Mooney and Mr. John Mooney over Sunday.

Miss Maud Terry of Doshobel was a Monday visitor at home.

Miss Mabel Collins went to Eagle Monday to remain a few days with a sister.

Fred Mayers left on Monday for Milwaukee to spend a few days and will go from that city to Manhattan, Kansas, to remain for an indefinite time.

Mrs. C. F. Cronk of Madison spent Sunday in Brodhead with her sister, Mrs. A. Barnes, returning home on Monday.

About a dozen young friends surprised Miss Clara Holcomb last evening at her home, where they enjoyed a

THEATER

Connors' Vaudeville Theatre.

Janesville patrons of good vaudeville set their mark of approval on the act of Redwood and Gordon, singers and instrumentalists, who are at Connors' new vaudeville, theatre the first part of this week and gave their first entertainments last evening. In doing so they but followed the example of a score of other ful mechanical and electrical effects together with one of the strongest casts today in musical comedy, comprising a pretty chorus, wonderful dancers and clever comedians producing original novelties will give one of the most pleasing entertainments of the season.

The continuing is superb and together with the dazzling effects used in the numerous specialties including cities, Madison, Ann Arbor, Mich., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and others too numerous to mention, where the team has appeared and made a decided hit. There is class to their act. It is refined and genteel. Miss Gordon has a magnificent voice and wears elegant gowns, with all the grace of a queen of the drawing room. Redwood is a cornetist of unusual ability and has a well-groomed appearance.

"The Lyman Twins" to Appear Here. It is announced that the famous twin comedians, The Lyman Twin Brothers will appear at the Myers Theatre Wednesday, Nov. 9. "The Prize Winners" their latest and greatest musical comedy success. This excellent company with its beautiful scenic equipment, numerous wonderful effects, the poppy girl dance, the country mauls, and the charming daisy girls, you are sure of an ovation seldom seen here.

Alma Wo Wobed Duo (Alma where do you live) the delightful German Musical Comedy which was presented at the Myers Theatre some weeks ago will give a return engagement in Janesville on Monday, Nov. 14th. Manager Myers has been besieged with requests for a return engagement and feels fortunate in securing it. This delightful Comedy Farce, though written in German is easily understood by the English speaking public because the translations have been Americanized. All lovers of music in Janesville will be pleasantly entertained on its first presentation here and played to a very large audience.

A Remarkable Offer to Local People:

A 10c Cake of Palmolive Soap Absolutely Free!

A few days ago, the B. J. Johnson Soap Co. of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, made a startling offer in two columns of this paper. It was this: With every 25-cent purchase of Palmolive Toilet Soap, this offer is good during all of this week, and judging from the reports of local dealers, large numbers of enterprising people here are taking advantage of this unprecedented offer.

In the large advertisement which appeared last Monday a list of general stores was published where free Palmolive Soap can be obtained during this week—"Free Soap Week." Unless you have already taken advantage of this offer, we urge you to do so on the offer while it is good. After this week these soap are taken into the home. It means that all other brands of soap will be discarded.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA? We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—It knows that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.

Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble.

Because—It cleanses, soothes and heals the skin.

Because—It enables Nature to repair the ravages of disease.

Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczema Cure.

Dip into our store today, just to talk over your case with us. J. P. Baker, Janesville, Wis.

and gently reared, women will find in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives and mothers, that the one simple, wholesome laxative remedy, which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally and which may be taken at any time, when the system needs a laxative, with perfect safety and really beneficial effects, is Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

It has that true delicacy of flavor which is so refreshing to the taste, that warming and grateful toning to the stomach which responds so favorably to its action and the laxative effect which is so beneficial to the system when, occasionally, its gentle cleansing is required.

The genuine, always bearing the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., may be purchased from all leading druggists in original packages of one size only, price fifty cents per bottle. York.

"YOU'LL SUCCEED IN JANESVILLE."

Whenever you hear a "rumor" the best thing to do is to get a can, put the rumor in it and bury the can—but—

There is a rumor that has been heard about town: "The census enumerators did not take the census correctly in Janesville—there are not as many people here as they say there are."

Now is there a good booster in this town who will believe that this is true, when over fifty new houses were built this year and it is practically an impossibility to find a good house to rent?

Josh Billings said he "liked a rooster for the crow that was in him"—now we like a BOOSTER for the crow that is in him.

Let's "cure" the census rumor and spend our time and efforts to boost Janesville. This Club is doing work every minute of the day that is going to have a tremendous effect on the future Janesville. Janesville is going ahead but she needs a good bunch of strong crowing BOOSTERS all the time. Let's forget these "rumors" and attend to our knitting—Janesville is ALL RIGHT.

From the Play of the

WINCHELL SMITH

Copyright, 1910, by Winchell Smith and Louis Joseph Vance

He found himself shortly after 8 at the gate to the Bohun place. An aged negro butler, one of the freed slaves brought from Virginia by the Bohuns, admitted him to the hall and took his card, smothering his own wonderment, for in those days nobody disturbed the silence and the peace of decay of the Bohun mansion save its master. Duncan had long to wait.

"Cannon Bohun will see you, sir," the servant said and ushered him into the library.

Bohun received the young man standing. He was as courteous beneath his own roof as he was impossible away from it.

The colonel nodded. "At your service, sir," and waited grimly.

Duncan had his own way of getting at things.

"May I inquire, sir, if you are acquainted with the firm of L. J. Bartlett & Co. of New York?"

"I have heard of it, Mr. Duncan."

"Then would you mind doing me the favor of writing to Mr. Henry Kellogg, the junior partner, and asking him about me?"

The colonel stiffened. "May I ask why I should do anything so uncalled for?"

"Because it isn't uncalled for, sir. I mean you won't think so after I've explained."

Bohun inclined his head, searching Nat's face with his keen, bright eyes.

"You see, sir, it's this way. I want you to intrust me with a considerable sum of money, and naturally you would not do that without knowing something about me."

"I incline very much to doubt that I should do it in any event, Mr. Duncan."

"Oh, don't say that. You don't know the circumstances as yet." Nat jerked his head earnestly at the colonel. "You see, you're said to be one of the richest men in town, and I'm certainly one of the poorest, so of course I turn to you in a case like this."

Duncan could have sworn that the eyes were twinkling beneath the savagely knitted brows.

"You must understand I'm in business here in Radville—a partner in a growing and prospering concern—nothing very well in point of fact."

"Yes?"

"But we haven't any spare capital. In fact, we haven't got any capital worth mentioning. But the business is entirely sound and solvent."

"I congratulate you, sir."

"Thank you very much. Now, I'm interested in a rather singular case, that of a young woman—a girl. I should say—daughter of my partner. She's a good girl and wonderfully sweet and fine, sir. She comes of one of the best families in these parts."

"On her mother's side," suggested the colonel dryly.

"So I'm told, sir. But she's been neglected. Circumstances have been against her. She hasn't had a real chance in life, but she ought to have it, and I'm going to see that she gets it."

"Yes?"

"But we haven't any spare capital. In fact, we haven't got any capital worth mentioning. But the business is entirely sound and solvent."

one way or another."

"You haven't finished?" said the colonel coldly.

"Not quite, sir," said Duncan. "Good night," he told himself. "He hasn't ordered me thrown out yet."

"Do come down to cases, sir, she ought to be sent to a good boarding school for a few years. It'll make a new woman of her—a woman to be proud of. She's got that in her. It only needs to be brought out."

"And before you leave, sir," said the colonel with significant precision, "will you be so kind as to inform me why you think this should interest me?"

"No," said Duncan candidly. "I haven't got the nerve to. But what I wanted to propose was this—that you lend me $500 to cover the expense of the first year on condition that I represent the money as coming from the profits of the business and, in short, keep the transaction between ourselves absolutely quiet. If you'll inquire of Mr. Kellogg he'll tell you I can be trusted to keep my word. Furthermore—he galloped, suspecting that his time was perilously short and desiring to get it all out of his system—"I'll guarantee you repayment within a year and that you shan't be annoyed this way a second time."

Bohun looked him over from head to foot, bowed in silence and, turning—both had stood throughout this passage—grasped a bell rope by the chimney and pulled it violently.

In the desolate fastnesses of that dreary house somewhere a bell tinkled discordantly. A moment later the white-headed butler opened the door.

"Sir?" he said.

Colonel Bohun essayed to speak, cleared his throat angrily and told—

"But we haven't any spare capital. In fact, we haven't got any capital worth mentioning. But the business is entirely sound and solvent."

"I congratulate you, sir."

"Thank you very much. Now, I'm interested in a rather singular case, that of a young woman—a girl. I should say—daughter of my partner. She's a good girl and wonderfully sweet and fine, sir. She comes of one of the best families in these parts."

"On her mother's side," suggested the colonel dryly.

"So I'm told, sir. But she's been neglected. Circumstances have been against her. She hasn't had a real chance in life, but she ought to have it, and I'm going to see that she gets it."

to him that it was Mr. Graham's affair. Mr. Graham was a substantial business man, he said, and if he chose to send his daughter away to school he had a perfect right to do so.

One direct result of it all was to hasten Josie's own leave taking. It would never do to let the Grahams eclipse the Lockwoods, you see. Josie had been talking of going to a school in Maryland, but Betty's move to a fashionable center like Philadelphia made her change her mind, and arrangements were made by which Josie was able to go Betty one better. A young ladies' seminary in New York city itself received Josie. She left as bereaved about a week after Betty vanished from our ken, but promised to be back for the Christmas holidays.

Betty was happy, she protested in every communication, and wholly content. She was getting along. The other girls liked her, and she liked them, these statements being made in the order of their relative importance. Lots of them, of course, were frightfully well (Betty annexed "frightfully" at school, by the bye) and had all sorts of clothes. The drug store, not to be outdone, supplied her with a party gown for state occasions.

Josie kept her promise and came home for Christmas. She was reticent as to her impressions of the New York seminary, but seemed extremely glad to be home, notwithstanding the fact that Nat had apparently contracted no disturbing alliances with the other belles of her village. And Roland remained true—a reliable second string to Josie's bow. Roland was working hard at the bank, with an application that earned Blinky Lockwood's regard and outspoken approbation, and his Christmas raiment proved the sensation of the season.

In passing I should mention that Betty didn't come home once throughout the entire school term. The Christmas and Easter holidays she spent with a girl friend at her Philadelphia home.

Meanwhile life in our town slumbered gently. Duncan continued to make progress. For one thing I recall that he put in hot soda with whipped cream, which helped a lot to hold the trade regained in the summer from Sothorn & Lee.

Occasionally Duncan visited some of the towns in the county to develop the mail order business which he had successfully inaugurated and which increased materially the profits of the firm.

There was a certain night along toward the 1st of January when trade was dull, as it always is after Christmas, and there was nobody in the store save Nat and Tracey. Each had their task, whatever it may have been, and each was busied with it, but of the two Tracey seemed the more restless.

Duncan broke a long silence in the store. "What's the trouble, Tracey?"

Tracey pulled up with a stare of confusion. "I—I dunno, Mr. Duncan; I was thinking, I guess."

"Anything gone wrong?"

"Not yet."

"Somebody been demonstrating that your doll's stuffed with sawdust, Tracey?"

"No-o; but, say, Mr. Duncan—Tracey's confusion became terrific.

"Say on, Mr. Tanner."

Tracey struggled perceptibly. The words when they came were blurred. "Ah, I was only thinking 'bout Angle."

"Do you ever think about anything else?"

"No," Tracey admitted honestly, "not much. But I was wonderin'—"

"Well?"

"Are you stuck on Angle, Mr. Duncan?" demanded Tracey desperately.

"Great snaked! I hope not!"

The boy sighed. "Thank you, Mr. Duncan."

"No," Tracey admitted honestly, "not much. But I was wonderin'—"

"STIR IN A LITTLE LOVE."

Cooking a Metaphysical Art, Says Mrs. Chapin of Boston.

"Stir in a little love."

Whether you are making biscuits, turning butter cakes or manufacturing a wobbly rabbit, let love be the inevitable ingredient. Stir it with your flour, slip it with your flannel cakes, melt it deftly with your Worcestershire and cheese and beer.

That is, you must do those things if you wish to be a successful cook, according to the recipe of Mrs. Mary E. T. Chapin, who expounded the metaphysics of the culinary art to the assembled Club of Domestic Science at the pure food show held recently in New York city.

"Something never mentioned in any recipe ought to go into every bit of cooking ever done," said Mrs. Chapin. "Food doesn't taste right without this ingredient. No really nourishing meal was ever prepared without it. Do you know what this mysterious ingredient is?"

"It is love," she said. "Love for your work, love for those you work for. The wife who does not care for her husband cannot possibly prepare as good a meal for him as the woman who makes every little detail of cooking—the weighing and measuring, the mixing, the regulating of heat, the constant exercise of judgment—an act of devotion."

"Love for the people for whom it is done is the basis of the masculine superstition of the superiority of 'the things mother used to make.' It explains the superiority of home cooking over that found in restaurants and hotels. A chef can't possibly love an abstract public as a woman loves her husband or her children. You taste the love in home cooking. Seriously, you can't cook unless you love."

Modern Workers' Work.

In a word, we are doing a vast amount of work in 50 years, through labor-saving devices and other things, we do 200 years of work, measured by the old standard. We have to live fast and in this we find the cost of living high, according to old standards.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Gazette, Nov. 8, 1870, is a very happy "surprise" to the editor of the present paper. The first M. E. church and his wife last Wednesday evening. A large number of his people unexpectedly entered his residence and, after spending a social hour, presented a beautiful carpet of twenty-five yards, with stars and stripes. Such incidents are treasured among the most valuable recollections of a minister's family. The chief good of an occasion like this is not in the gift itself, but rather in the union of spirit and goodwill which will manifest itself by the donors.

Mr. W. H. Payne of this city, received the first premium at the Ohio State Fair on his gun blunder. This machine has been used successfully during the past harvest in every respect giving satisfaction. It can be attached to any reaper, and requires no more attention from the driver than the reaper itself. It must be gratifying to Mr. Payne that his years of labor have been crowned by a successful result.

Election is proceeding quietly to-day, causing no excitement and consequently creating no disturbance. The prospect is that about the usual vote will be polled and that the republican ticket will be elected by the usual majority.

The Janesville post-office ranks the second in the state for the amount of money order business transacted. The popularity of this department of our post-office, with those remitting money, is due, in great measure, to the obliging manner and gentlemanly deportment of the deputy post-master, Mr. J. D. King, who is always ready to accommodate customers.

The county superintendent of schools and many of the teachers under his charge have been visiting the Chicago schools this week.

A party of young folks going to a surprise party, near Afton, in two large wagons, collided through some mismanagement of the drivers making a total wreck of both vehicles and compelling the occupants to walk home, a distance of from one to three miles. The party was postponed.

NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS

MOST CERTAIN WAY TO END A BAD COLD

Surely breaks the most severe cold and ends Grippe misery in just a few hours.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken will cure Grippe or break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

You distinctly feel the cold breaking and all the disagreeable grippe symptoms leaving after the very first dose. It promptly ends the most miserable headache, neuralgia pains, dizziness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery so promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

There being no Sunday passenger train from the store and post-office are closed from Saturday night till Monday morning.

Deafness Cannot be Cured. by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear, which is often painful, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but a local condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness cured by our method. Send for circular, free. J. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Surely Encouragement.

"This is the fourth time you have asked me to marry you," said the good-looking girl, resentfully. "I am sure I have never encouraged you."

"I don't know about that," replied the serious young man. "You're the only girl I know who doesn't laugh when I propose to her."

Postponement of Right Living.

He who postpones the hour of living as he ought is like the rattle who waits for the river to pass along (before he crosses); but it glides on and will glide on forever.—Horace.

Washington and a Dog.

While the British occupied Philadelphia and the American forces lay in winter quarters at Valley Forge, one day as Washington and his staff were dining a fine hunting dog which was evidently lost came to seek something to eat. On its collar was the name, "General Howe." Washington ordered that the dog should be fed, and then he sent it to Philadelphia under a flag of truce, with a letter reading: "General Washington's compliments to General Howe. He does himself the pleasure to return to him a dog which neck cordially fell into his hands and by the inscription on the collar appears to be long to General Howe." The British commander in reply sent a cordial letter conveying his warm thanks for this act of courtesy of his enemy.

A Judge's Poetical Request.

In "Memories of Famous Trials" by Rev. E. V. Burdick, is an amusing story about the late Lord Bowen, "a brilliant, intellectual and clever judge." His lordship wanted a lift to the lord chancellor's breakfast in 1883 and addressed the following request to his old friend, Mr. Justice Mathew:

My Dear J. C.—Will you be free to carry me, beside of thee, in your buggies to Helborne's tea, if breakfast he intends for us, on 2 November next. D. V., slightest hindrance and slightest delay. A. D. for Lord Bowen, from Cornwall St., will absent be and says that she would rather see her husband be D dash D than send to London her buggies for such a melancholy prospect as Helborne's toast and Helborne's tea?

Cromwell's Seal.

The seal of Oliver Cromwell, now in the possession of a prominent family in Wales, is a plain gold-mounted corundum stone five-eighths of an inch in diameter. It dates from 1653 and was used on several of his deeds. The whole of the Lord's prayer is engraved upon it.

Always on the Job.

Strikes may come and go, and capitalists may rage and fume; but unions will be formed as long as Dan Cupid has an arrow left, and the pastor retains his skill at knot tying.—Youngstown Telegram.
